Common Contract Law Questions and Answers

- What is a contract, and what are its essential elements?

Question:

What constitutes a valid contract under English law?

Answer:

A valid contract under English law must satisfy several essential elements:

- Offer: One party must make a clear, unequivocal proposal to enter into an agreement.
- Acceptance: The other party must accept the offer unequivocally and in the manner specified or reasonably expected.

Additional Notes:

- How does offer and acceptance work in contract formation?

Question:

What are the rules governing offer and acceptance in contract law?

Answer:

Offer and acceptance are fundamental to forming a contract. The process involves:

- Offer:
- Must be clear, definite, and communicated to the offeree.

- Acceptance:
- Must be absolute and unqualified; any variation may be considered a counter-offer.
- Must be communicated to the offeror, except in cases where silence or conduct implies acceptance.
- Acceptance must be made within the timeframe specified or within a reasonable period.

Rules and Principles:

- The "mirror image rule" states acceptance must exactly match the offer.
- The "postal rule" applies in some cases, meaning acceptance is effective when mailed, not when received.
- Instantaneous communication (e.g., phone, email) requires acceptance to be received to be effective.

- What is consideration, and why is it necessary?

Question:

Why is consideration essential in contract law, and what does it entail?

Answer:

Consideration refers to something of value exchanged between parties, which is necessary to validate a contract under English law. It serves as evidence that both parties intend to enter into a binding agreement.

Features of Consideration:

- Must be sufficient but need not be adequate (the law generally does not judge the fairness of consideration).
- Can be a promise to do something or refrain from doing something.
- Can be past, present, or future, but only if it is part of the current bargain (past consideration is generally not valid).
- Must move from the promisee; a third party cannot provide consideration unless there is a specific exception.

Importance:

- Consideration distinguishes a contractual promise from a gift.
- Without consideration, a promise is usually not enforceable unless it is made in a deed.

- What are the types of contracts, and how are they classified?

- Duress: Contracts entered into under threats or coercion are voidable.
